WSF GLOBAL EQUITY FUND INVESTMENT ADVISER'S REPORT for the year ended 30 April 2019

Yearly comment – 30 April 2018 to 30 April 2019

Global equity returns were positive for the year ending 30 April 2019.

During the period, the USD I Class of the WSF Global Equity Fund (the “Fund”), as calculated at the weekly NAV dates 30-Apr-2018 and 30-Apr-2019, gained 6.6% from 22.7 to 24.2. This compares to a 10.4% rise in the S&P Developed Shariah BMI (US Dollar) Net Total Return from 186.3 to 205.6 over the same period.

During the first half in the US, data showed that consumer confidence increased in May after a slight dip in April with the Conference Board’s monthly consumer confidence index rising to 128.0 in May from a downwardly-revised 125.6 in April. The index remained well above the 100-point threshold that separates consumer optimism from pessimism. It was reported that consumer prices rose 0.2% from the previous month in May. Inflation showed signs of a durable pick-up in May, accelerating from April’s 2.5% to a more than six-year high of 2.8%. Later in the period in the US, the August employment report showed strong payroll gains which are poised to support consumption dynamics going forward. Non-farm payrolls increased by 201,000 in August. This represented the 95th consecutive month of job creation, the longest streak on record in the U.S. economy and paved the way for another rate increase. The Trump administration imposed new duties on USD 200 billion of Chinese imports—adding to existing China tariffs on USD 50 billion of products, as well as steel, solar panel and washing machine duties applying to most U.S. trade partners. The new tariffs, which took effect on 24 September, will be applied at a rate of 10% until the end of the year, after which point the rate is scheduled to rise to 25%. At its 25–26 September monetary policy meeting, the Federal Reserve’s Open Market Committee unanimously decided to raise its target range for the federal funds rate by 25 basis points to between 2.00% and 2.25%.

Later in the period, November job data represented the 97th consecutive month of job creation, the longest streak on record in the U.S. economy. At its 18–19 December monetary policy meeting, the Federal Reserve’s Open Market Committee unanimously raised its target range for the federal funds rate by 25 basis points, to 2.25%–2.50%. The partial government shutdown, which began on 22 December and dragged on into the longest in U.S. history, strained the first quarter’s GDP growth. The shutdown started after House Democrats refused to yield to President Trump’s demands for USD 5.7 billion of funding for a border wall with Mexico. At its 29–30 January monetary policy meeting, the Federal Reserve’s Open Market Committee unanimously voted to maintain its target range for the federal funds rate at 2.25%–2.50%. Beyond the rate decision, which was widely expected, the January meeting was significant because of the dramatic change of tone in the Fed statement. Of particular note, it suggests a marked slowdown, if not a complete halt, to interest rate hikes in the year ahead. It was reported that the Conference Board’s monthly consumer confidence index fell from 131.4 in February to 124.1 in March, markedly underwhelming market expectations of 133.0. It was reported that economic growth surged in the first quarter of 2019 on the back of a positive net export contribution and a large inventory buildup, GDP increased 3.2% in Q1 over the previous quarter in seasonally-adjusted annualized terms, up from a downwardly revised 2.2% in Q4 2018. In year-on-year terms, growth ticked up from 3.0% in Q4 to 3.2% in Q1.

In Europe, the European Central Bank announced the end of its massive quantitative easing program, signalling the beginning of the end for monetary stimulus in the Eurozone. The Bank will finalize its asset purchases program at the end of December 2018 and halve the pace of purchases from the current EUR 30 billion per month to EUR 15 billion per month in the final quarter of the year. Data suggested that the Euro area’s economic momentum gained steam in June. The preliminary Eurozone Composite Purchasing Managers’ Index, rose from 54.1 in May to 54.8 in June, ending the indicator’s downward fall seen since January. While the result overshoot expectations of a dip to 53.9, the reading is still downbeat compared to recent data and the second quarter average of the PMI was the weakest since Q4 2016. However, the composite PMI lies well above the 50-threshold, signalling expanding business activity in the Eurozone. It was reported that the economy slowed in the second quarter of 2018, losing further momentum after a weak start to the year. According to a preliminary estimate released by Eurostat, GDP increased by a seasonally-adjusted 0.3% in Q2 from the previous quarter, which was below Q1's 0.4% rise and marked the slowest growth since Q2 2016. Compared with the same quarter of 2017, seasonally-adjusted GDP expanded 2.1% in Q2, which was considerably below Q1's 2.5% increase. The European Central Bank delivered no surprises at its 13 September monetary policy meeting, leaving its main interest rates unchanged and reaffirming its commitment to winding down asset purchases related to its quantitative easing (QE) program by the end of the year.

World Shariah Funds PCC Limited

Later in the period, in Europe, leading data suggested that the Euro area's economy ended the year on a weak note. The Eurozone Composite Purchasing Managers' Index, fell from November's 52.7 to 51.3 in December—the worst result since November 2014. Labor market conditions in the common currency bloc improved in November. The number of unemployed people increased 90,000, and the unemployment rate fell from 8.0% to 7.9%. November's result marks the lowest unemployment rate since October 2008. Industrial output plunged in November, falling a seasonally-adjusted 1.7% over the previous month. The result contrasted October's revised 0.1% increase and undershot market expectations of a 1.5% drop. The Eurozone economy remained weak in the final quarter of 2018, failing to gain ground after the third quarter's slowdown. In January it was reported that industrial production increased a seasonally-adjusted 1.4% over the previous month, contrasting the 0.9% fall recorded in December. The result beat market expectations of a softer 1.0% expansion. Data showed that the economic sentiment indicator dropped 0.7 points from February to 105.5 points—the worst result in more than two years. All told, however, sentiment in the Eurozone remained above its long-run average. It was reported that complete data confirmed harmonized inflation came in at 1.4% in March, slightly below February's 1.5%. Inflation sits below the European Central Bank's target rate of near, but under, 2.0%. In Japan, data released confirmed Japan's economy contracted for the first time in nine quarters at the start of the year. According to revised data released by the Cabinet Office on 8 June, the economy contracted 0.6% over the previous quarter in seasonally-adjusted annualized terms in Q1. Data showed that sentiment inched down to 43.5 in July from 43.7 in June, surprising market analysts who expected it to rise to 47.8. The consumer confidence index measures consumers' expectations for the next six months on a scale of 0–100; a figure of 100 indicates that all respondents see their living standards improving. In September, core machinery orders, a leading indicator for capital spending over a three- to six-month period, logged the sharpest contraction since records began in 1987. The performance reflected a strong earthquake and a typhoon in September, which disrupted economic activity. After rebounding in the second quarter, Japan's economy contracted again in the third quarter, as it did in Q1. This was largely the consequence of several natural disasters—including torrential rain, a typhoon and an earthquake—that struck the country this summer. GDP contracted 1.2% in Q3 in seasonally-adjusted annualized terms, and undershooting market expectations of a 1.0% fall. In annual terms, GDP grew 0.3%, down from Q2's revised 1.4% rise. It was reported that consumer sentiment decreased from 43.0 in October to 42.9 in November, marking the lowest reading since December 2016. The data disappointed market expectations of a rise to 43.2. The consumer confidence index measures consumers' expectations for the next six months on a scale of 0–100; a figure of 100 indicates that all respondents see their living standards improving. According to the Bank of Japan's quarterly Tankan business survey, sentiment among large manufacturers was steady at 19 in the fourth quarter of 2019. Confidence in non-manufacturing firms rose from 22 in Q3 to 24 in Q4. The Tankan business survey is calculated by subtracting the number of respondents who say economic conditions are improving from those who say they are deteriorating. A positive reading means optimists outnumber pessimists.

World Shariah Funds PCC Limited

WSF GLOBAL EQUITY FUND INVESTMENT ADVISER'S REPORT for the year ended 30 April 2019

Later in the period in Japan, it was reported that consumer sentiment fell from 42.9 in November to 42.7 in December, marking the lowest reading since December 2016. Industrial production fell 1.0% on a month-on-month and seasonally-adjusted basis in November, contrasting October's 2.9% expansion. At its 22–23 January meeting, Bank of Japan decided to keep its monetary policy unchanged. The BoJ maintained the short-term policy rate applied to current account balances held by financial institutions at the Bank at minus 0.10%. 10-year Japanese government bond yields were capped at around 0%, albeit with some elasticity which will allow the yields to move upwards and downwards to some extent. Regarding asset purchases other than JGB, the board unanimously decided to purchase exchange-traded funds and Japanese real estate investment trusts at an annual pace of about JPY 6 trillion and JPY 90 billion yen, respectively. Data showed that the Nikkei flash manufacturing Purchasing Managers' Index was unchanged at February's 48.9% in March, the lowest level since July 2016. It was reported that the core consumer price index rose 0.2% in month-on-month seasonally-adjusted terms in February, matching January's result. Nevertheless, inflation remained well below the Bank of Japan's inflation target of 2.0%. It was reported that nominal yen-denominated merchandise exports fell 2.4% year-on-year in March, following the 1.2% decrease in February. The fall mostly reflected weak global demand, especially from China.

The Cogent Asset Management investment process for the WSF Global Equity Fund is quantitative and consistently realigns the portfolio towards the dominant style trends within the Valuation, Earnings and Price Momentum, Quality, Volatility and Financial Strength styles.

The process aims to maintain sector and key currency neutrality. Country and sector allocation remained static during the period – the Cognition investment process calls for sector and key currency neutrality (Canadian Dollar, US Dollar, British Pound, Euro, Yen). Total turnover is expected to remain in the range of 15-20% per month. Trading is undertaken to realign the portfolio towards the dominant investment themes.

As at end April 2019, the Fund's style allocation reflected an overall preference for stocks exhibiting High Earnings Quality and Low Price Volatility. The least favoured investment styles were High Financial Strength and Low Valuation. The largest positive style shift was a move into stocks displaying High Earnings Quality.

This style increased from fourth to first rank in terms of weighted exposure within the portfolio. The most negative style shift was a move out of stocks displaying High Price Momentum. This style decreased from second to fourth rank in terms of weighted exposure within the portfolio.

WSF ASIAN PACIFIC FUND INVESTMENT ADVISER'S REPORT for the year ended 30 April 2019

Yearly comment – 30 April 2018 to 30 April 2019

The USD I Class of WSF Asia Pacific Fund (the “Fund”) fell -15.2% from 10.5 to 8.9. During the same period the Fund’s Benchmark index, the S&P Pan Asia Ex Japan BMI Shariah (US Dollar) Net Total Return index fell -3.5% from 146.4 to 141.3.

In Australia, it was reported that the business confidence index produced by the National Australia Bank (NAB) decreased to 6 points in May from 11 points in April. Data showed that nominal retail sales growth in May came in at 0.4% over the previous month in seasonally adjusted terms and coming above market expectations of a more moderate 0.3% rise. It was reported that seasonally adjusted employment increased by 50,900 in June compared to the prior month. June’s reading was mainly driven by more full-time workers, although the number of part-time workers also increased. The Westpac-Melbourne Institute Index of Consumer Sentiment declined from an over four-and-a-half-year high of 106.1 in July to 103.6 in August. Nevertheless, it remained above the 100 mark that separates optimism from pessimism among consumers, where it has now been for nine consecutive months. In the third quarter of 2018, consumer prices rose 0.4% over the previous quarter, according to the Australian Bureau of Statistics. The figure came in line with market expectations and matched the previous quarter’s reading. Data showed that the economy slowed considerably in the third quarter, dragged down by a sharp slowdown in consumer spending, according to figures released by the Australian Bureau of Statistics. GDP expanded 0.3% quarter-on-quarter in seasonally adjusted terms in Q3, following a 0.9% increase in the second quarter. Sluggish wage growth, falling house prices and a high stock of household debt continued to weigh on consumers’ finances, whilst retail sales benefited from strong promotional activity. The Westpac-Melbourne Institute consumer sentiment index fell from 104.4 in December to 99.6 in January. The business confidence index produced by National Australia Bank rose to 3.6 points in January from a revised almost three-year low of 2.7 points in December. The index thus moved further above the zero-point threshold, indicating that Australian businesses are mostly optimistic regarding economic conditions. However, it remained below its long-run average. Data showed that the business confidence index produced by National Australia Bank fell to 2.0 points in February from 3.6 points in January. The reading represented the weakest result in over three years. The index nevertheless remained above the zero-point threshold. Data showed that nominal retail sales in February rose 0.8% over the previous month in seasonally adjusted terms. Data showed that the business confidence index produced by National Australia Bank fell to minus 0.4 points in March from plus 1.8 points in February. It was reported that in the first quarter of 2019, consumer prices remained unchanged over the previous quarter, according to the Australian Bureau of Statistics (ABS). According to the ABS, Q12019’s data was mainly the result of higher prices for education, health, and for food and non-alcoholic beverages, which were offset by lower prices for clothing and footwear, transport, and recreation and culture.

In South Korea, data released showed the economy grew 2.9% year-on-year in the second quarter of 2018, up slightly from 2.8% in the first quarter and confirming that last year’s strong growth momentum continued into 2018. In seasonally adjusted terms, output increased 0.7% in the second quarter compared to a quarter earlier. It was reported that industrial production in the mining, manufacturing, and gas and electricity sectors decreased 0.4% in June. The average annual change in industrial production slipped to a 0.2% contraction in June. It was reported that business activity contracted in the manufacturing sector for the fourth consecutive month in June. The Nikkei manufacturing Purchasing Managers’ Index, reported by IHS Markit, ticked up to 49.8 in June from 48.9 in May. Despite the increase, the index remained below the 50-point threshold that signals a contraction over an expansion in the manufacturing sector. Merchandise exports increased 22.7% over the same month a year earlier in October, contrasting September’s 8.2% drop, to total USD 55.0 billion. The result was driven by growth in 10 out of the 13 major export groups, with exports of general machinery; petrochemicals; and semiconductors growing particularly strong. However, contractions in the exports of displays; wireless communication devices; and ships dragged on the headline figure. According to data released by the Bank of Korea, GDP increased 2.0% in the third quarter from the same quarter last year. This matched the preliminary reading released in October but was still significantly down from the 2.8% expansion in the second quarter. For January, the Bank of Korea's forward-looking business confidence indicator for manufacturers was stable at December's 71 points, leaving it below the crucial 100-point threshold separating pessimism from optimism. The BSI has registered pessimism for every month since June 2011. The manufacturing PMI rose to 49.8 in December from 48.6 in November. The economy grew 3.1% in the fourth quarter compared to the same quarter a year earlier. This was significantly up from the 2.0% expansion recorded in the third quarter, although the lower Q3 reading was partly the consequence of a high base effect. In seasonally adjusted terms, the economy expanded 1.0% in Q4. Merchandise exports fell 5.8% year-on-year in January—a more pronounced drop than December's revised 1.3% fall—to total USD 46.4 billion. Merchandise imports decreased 1.7% in January—contrasting the 1.2% increase in December—and totalled USD 45.0 billion. Data showed that merchandise exports fell 11.1% year-on-year in February to USD 39.6 billion. Merchandise imports decreased 12.6% in February and totalled USD 36.5 billion. It was reported that the Bank of Korea's composite consumer sentiment index rose to 99.8 points in March from 99.5 points in February. Despite the increase, the index remained below the 100-point threshold that separates pessimism from optimism among households. Data showed that consumer prices fell 0.2% in March compared to the previous month, contrasting the 0.4% increase in February. In March, lower prices came on the back of cheaper food and non-alcoholic beverages, recreation and culture, and clothing and footwear. At its 18 April monetary policy meeting, the Bank of Korea held the base rate steady at 1.75% where it has been since November last year. It was reported that the economy grew 1.8% in the first quarter compared to the same quarter a year earlier. This was significantly down from the 3.1% expansion registered in the fourth quarter of last year, weighed on mainly by a notable contraction in gross fixed capital formation and a slowdown in final consumption expenditure growth.

In Taiwan, it was reported that industrial output expanded 7.1% over the previous year in May, easing from April's upwardly revised 8.8% increase. Manufacturing output—which represents more than 90% of total industrial production—drove the reading in May, expanding 7.2% in annual terms. The result was largely driven by solid growth in the production of electronic parts and components. Meanwhile, activity in the mining and quarrying industry contracted for the fourth consecutive month. It was reported that industrial output growth expanded 4.4% in annual terms in July, accelerating from June's upwardly revised 0.5% increase. Merchandise exports grew a paltry 1.9% in annual terms in August, decelerating from the 4.7% expansion registered in July and markedly below analysts' expectations of a 5.1% increase. This is the third consecutive month in which Taiwanese exports slowed from the double-digit growth rates recorded at the beginning of the year. Operating conditions in the Taiwanese manufacturing sector deteriorated for the second consecutive month in November, as demand conditions continued to weaken. The manufacturing Purchasing Managers' Index, reported by Nikkei and IHS Markit, declined from 48.7 in October to 48.4 in November. The index thus remained below the 50-point threshold that separates expansion from contraction in the manufacturing sector. Merchandise exports fell 3.4% in annual terms in November, markedly contrasting the 7.3% expansion logged in October. The decline came mainly on the back of weaker smartphone shipments, which were notably impacted when Apple cancelled production orders for the iPhone XR, XS and XS Max early in the month. GDP expanded 1.8% year-on-year in Q4, down from Q3's 2.3% and missing market expectations of 2.0%. On a seasonally adjusted quarter-on-quarter basis, however, GDP growth was stable at Q3's 0.4%. Operating conditions in the Taiwanese manufacturing sector continued to deteriorate in January, confirming that the economy likely remained on a weak footing at the start of the year after losing momentum in Q4. January marked the third consecutive month of decline in exports for the Taiwanese economy, which remains battered by the effects of the U.S.-China trade war and tepid global demand for tech products. Moreover, the feebleness of the trade sector appears likely to continue throughout the first quarter. Data showed that merchandise exports fell 4.4% in annual terms in March, logging the fifth consecutive decline following February's 8.8% dip. February export orders, which usually lead actual exports by two to three months, also declined 10.9% year-on-year, the sharpest slump in nearly three years. It was reported that economic growth slightly slowed in the first quarter of 2019 from the fourth quarter's paltry performance as domestic demand lost momentum, while low export demand for electronics continued to weigh on the country's core growth engine. GDP expanded 1.7% year-on-year in Q1. On a seasonally adjusted quarter-on-quarter basis, however, GDP growth picked up from 0.4% in Q4 to 0.5% in Q1.

In Singapore, data showed that Non-oil domestic exports soared 15.5% in May, up from April's 11.8% expansion and beating market expectations of a 4.7% rise. May's reading marked the fastest expansion since October 2017, and was underpinned by demand from the EU, the U.S. and Japan. It was reported that consumer prices decreased 0.1% over the previous month in July, contrasting June's 0.1% increase. According to data released by Statistics Singapore, July's decline in prices was primarily driven by lower prices for housing and utilities; and transport. The economy expanded 2.6% on an annual basis in Q3. This was down markedly from the upwardly revised 4.1% figure recorded in Q2 and the weakest print since Q3 2016, but marginally above market expectations of 2.5% growth. The manufacturing PMI produced by the Singapore Institute of Purchasing and Materials Management was marked down to 51.9 points in October from 52.4 in September, which was the weakest print since August 2017. The manufacturing PMI edged down to 51.5 points in November from 51.9 points in October, marking the weakest performance in over one year. Consequently, the index inched closer to the crucial 50-point mark that separates expansion from contraction in Singapore's manufacturing sector, but nevertheless remained above the threshold for the 27th consecutive month. Comprehensive national accounts data released by Singstat showed that the economy slowed by more than previously estimated in the final quarter. Growth was 1.9% year-on-year in Q4, and below Q3's revised 2.4%. In quarter-on-quarter in seasonally adjusted terms, the economy expanded a revised 1.4%, matching Q3's data. Consumer prices fell 0.3% over the previous month in January, contrasting the 0.1% increase recorded in December. The fall was primarily caused by lower prices for housing and utilities; and recreation and culture. It was reported that the economy expanded 1.3% on an annual basis in Q1, marking the worst reading in nearly a decade. This was significantly lower than the 1.9% figure recorded in Q4 last year. In quarter-on-quarter seasonally adjusted annualized terms, GDP growth accelerated to 2.0% in Q1, up from the 1.4% posted in Q4 2018. Data showed that non-oil domestic exports (NODX) decreased by 11.7% year-on-year in March, contrasting February's short-lived 4.8% increase. March's fall significantly meant that NODX in Q1 contracted at the sharpest rate in three years. The Cogent Asset Management investment process for the WSF Asian-Pacific Equity Fund is quantitative and focuses on the key style areas of Value and Price and Earnings Momentum. That is, the fund takes positions in stocks that demonstrate a compelling combination of earnings upgrades, positive share price momentum and reasonable value.

As at end April 2019 the Fund maintained a weighted group relative Value rank of 70% (68% as at end April 2018), a weighted Price Momentum rank of 74% (71%) and weighted Earnings Momentum rank of 56% (56%).

Our opinion on the financial statements is unmodified

We have audited the financial statements of World Shariah Funds PCC Limited (the "Company") for the year ended 30 April 2019, which comprise the Statement of Financial Position, the Statement of Comprehensive Income, the Statement of Changes in Net Assets Attributable to Holders of Participating Redeemable Shares, the Statement of Cash Flows and the notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies. The financial reporting framework that has been applied in their preparation is applicable law and International Financial Reporting Standards ('IFRSs') as adopted by the European Union and as applied in accordance with the provisions of the The Companies (Guernsey) Law, 2008.

In our opinion the financial statements:

- give a true and fair view of the state of the Company's affairs as at 30 April 2019 and of its net results for the year then ended;
- are in accordance with IFRSs as adopted by the European Union;
- comply with The Companies (Guernsey) Law, 2008.

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (UK) (ISAs (UK)) and applicable law. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in Guernsey, including the FRC's Ethical Standard as applied to listed entities, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Who we are reporting to

This report is made solely to the Company's members, as a body, in accordance with Section 262 of The Companies (Guernsey) Law, 2008 (as amended). Our audit work has been undertaken so that we might state to the Company's members those matters we are required to state to them in an auditor's report and for no other purpose. To the fullest extent permitted by law, we do not accept or assume responsibility to anyone other than the Company and the Company's members as a body, for our audit work, for this report, or for the opinions we have formed.

Conclusions relating to going concern

We have nothing to report in respect of the following information in the annual report, in relation to which the ISAs (UK) require us to report to you where:

- the directors' use of the going concern basis of accounting in the preparation of the Company's financial statements is not appropriate; or
- the directors have not disclosed in the financial statements any identified material uncertainties that may cast significant doubt about the Company's ability to continue to adopt the going concern basis of accounting for a period of at least twelve months from the date when the financial statements are authorised for issue.

Key audit matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the financial statements of the current period and include the most significant assessed risks of material misstatement (whether or not due to fraud) that we identified. These matters included those that had the greatest effect on: the overall audit strategy; the allocation of resources in the audit; and directing the efforts of the engagement team. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Key Audit Matter	How the matter was addressed in the audit
Valuation of investments at fair value through profit or loss ('FVTPL') The principal activity of the Company is to invest in a portfolio of Shariah-compliant quoted equity securities with a view to generate long-term capital growth for its shareholders. Accordingly, the investment portfolio is a significant and material item. The valuation of the investment portfolio is therefore a risk that requires special audit attention.	Our audit work included, but was not restricted to: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• understanding the Board's process to value quoted investments;• documenting our understanding of the valuation processes and performing walkthrough tests to confirm our understanding of the systems and controls implemented;• agreeing the valuation of a sample of quoted investments held by the Company to independent sources of market prices; and• obtaining trading volumes of quoted investments to determine whether they were actively traded and correctly classified as 'Level 1' under IFRS 13's fair value hierarchy. The Company's accounting policy and other disclosures on financial assets designated at FVTPL are included in Notes 2(g) and 5 to the financial statements. Key observations Based on our audit procedures, we conclude that investment valuations are materially correct as at 30 April 2019.
Improper revenue recognition due to fraud and error The Company measures its performance through realised gains on disposal of its investments, unrealised gains on revaluation of investments and dividend income. These significant components are measured in the Statement of Comprehensive Income. There is an incentive for management to overstate revenue, making revenue recognition a risk that requires special audit attention.	Our audit work included, but was not restricted to: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• assessing whether the Company's accounting policy for revenue recognition was in accordance with International Accounting Standard (IAS) 18 'Revenue';• obtaining an understanding of the Company's process for recognising revenue in accordance with the stated accounting policy and assessing the adequacy of the controls in place to prevent and detect fraud and error in revenue recognition;• testing whether a sample of income transactions was recognised in accordance with the accounting policy;• testing a sample of dividends received as reported in the general ledger and agreeing the details of dividends reported to independent sources;• recalculating realised gains on a sample of investment disposals; and• recalculating unrealised gains on a sample of investments at fair value through profit or loss. The Company's accounting policy on revenue recognition is shown in note 2(e). Key observations Based on our audit procedures, we did not identify any evidence of material misstatement in the revenue recognised the year ended 30 April 2019 in the financial statements.

Our application of materiality

We define materiality as the magnitude of misstatement in the financial statements that makes it probable that the economic decisions of a reasonably knowledgeable person would be changed or influenced. We use materiality in determining the nature, timing and extent of our audit work and in evaluating the results of that work.

We determined materiality for the audit of the financial statements as a whole to be $532,000, which is 1.75% of the Company's net asset value (NAV) as at 30 April 2019. This benchmark is considered the most appropriate because the users of the financial statements are sensitive to changes in net asset value as an indicator of the value of their investment in the Company.

We use a different level of materiality, performance materiality, to drive the extent of our testing and this was set at 75% of financial statement materiality for the audit of the financial statements. We also determine a lower level of specific materiality for certain areas such as directors' remuneration and related party transactions.

We determined the threshold at which we will communicate misstatements to the audit committee to be $26,600, being 5% of materiality. In addition we will communicate misstatements below that threshold that, in our view, warrant reporting on qualitative grounds.

An overview of the scope of our audit

Our audit approach was based on a thorough understanding of the Company's business and is risk-based. The day-to-day management of the Company's investment portfolio, the custody of its investments and the maintenance of the Company's accounting records are outsourced to regulated third-party service providers. Accordingly, our audit work is focussed on obtaining an understanding of, and evaluating, internal controls at the Company and the third-party service providers, and inspecting records and documents held by those third-party service providers. We undertook substantive testing on significant transactions, balances and disclosures, the extent of which was based on various factors such as our overall assessment of the control environment, the effectiveness of controls over individual systems and the management of specific risks.

Other information

The directors are responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the annual report set out on pages 4 to 12 other than the financial statements and our auditor's report thereon. Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and, except to the extent otherwise explicitly stated in our report, we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon. In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If we identify such material inconsistencies or apparent material misstatements, we are required to determine whether there is a material misstatement in the financial statements or a material misstatement of the other information. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of the other information, we are required to report that fact.

We have nothing to report in this regard.

Matters on which we are required to report by exception

We have nothing to report in respect of the following matters in relation to which The Companies (Guernsey) Law, 2008 requires us to report to you if, in our opinion:

- proper accounting records have not been kept by the Company; or
- the financial statements are not in agreement with the accounting records; or
- we have not obtained all the information and explanations, which to the best of our knowledge and belief, are necessary for the purposes of our audit.

Responsibilities of directors

As explained more fully in the directors' responsibilities statement set out on pages 4 to 5, the directors are responsible for the preparation of the financial statements and for being satisfied that they give a true and fair view, and for such internal control as the directors determine is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the directors are responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the directors either intend to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion.

Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs (UK) will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

We are responsible for obtaining reasonable assurance that the financial statements taken as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether caused by fraud or error. Owing to the inherent limitations of an audit, there is an unavoidable risk that material misstatements of the financial statements may not be detected, even though the audit is properly planned and performed in accordance with the ISAs (UK). Our audit approach is a risk-based approach and is explained more fully in the 'An overview of the scope of our audit' section of our audit report.

A further description of our responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements is located on the Financial Reporting Council's website at: www.frc.org.uk/auditorsresponsibilities. This description forms part of our auditor's report.

1. THE COMPANY

World Shariah Funds PCC Limited (the “Company”) is an open-ended investment company incorporated in Guernsey. The Company is authorised by the Guernsey Financial Services Commission under The Authorised Collective Investment Scheme (Class B) Rules, 2013.

During the year, the Company operated two cells, WSF Global Equity Fund and WSF Asian Pacific Fund with six sub-classes in each cell.

The following classes are listed on The International Stock Exchange:

Date of listing	WSF Global Equity Fund Class	WSF Asian Pacific Fund Class

The assets of the Company can be either cellular assets (assets attributable to the individual cells), or non-cellular assets. The assets attributable to a cell comprise assets represented by the proceeds of cell share capital, reserves and any other assets attributable to the cell. The non-cellular assets comprise the assets of the Company which are not cellular assets. Where a liability arises from a transaction in respect of a particular cell, and there are insufficient assets within this cell, then there will be recourse to the non-cellular assets but not to the assets of any other cell.

The investment adviser of the Company is Cogent Asset Management Limited (the “Investment Adviser”).

The investment objective of the WSF Global Equity Fund cell is to seek long term capital growth from an actively managed portfolio of Shariah-compliant securities which may be located in any jurisdiction or in any economic sector provided that such securities are listed securities or securities quoted on a Recognised Stock Exchange.

The investment objective of the WSF Asian Pacific Fund cell is to seek long term capital appreciation and income generation through investment predominantly in equities listed in stock exchanges in the emerging and developed markets in the Asian Pacific region excluding Japan, that are Shariah-compliant.

Classes

The Company may create one or more classes of shares in respect of each Cell. As of the date of these Financial Statements, the Company has created six classes of each Cell designated as follows:

2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

a) Statement of compliance

The Financial Statements of the Company have been prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards as adopted in the European Union ("IFRS").

The principal accounting policies applied in the preparation of these financial statements are set out below. These policies have been consistently applied to the year presented, unless otherwise stated.

i) Adoption of new and revised IFRSs

The Company has adopted all the IFRS and IFRIC interpretations that have been endorsed by the European Union and are relevant to its operations and are effective for accounting years beginning on or before 1 May 2018 as follows:

- IFRS 9 Financial Instruments – (effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2018)

IFRS 9 replaces IAS 39 Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement. IFRS 9 addresses the classification and measurement of financial assets and liabilities. It makes major changes to the previous guidance on the classification and measurement of financial assets and introduces an “expected credit loss” model for the impairment of financial assets. The new impairment model will apply to financial assets measured at amortised cost. There is no impact on the values reported in the financial statements from adopting IFRS 9 in respect of expected credit losses.

The adoption of IFRS 9 did not have any impact on the classification of the Company’s financial instruments and the amounts recognised in the prior year, therefore, comparative balances were not restated.

ii) Standards, Interpretations and Amendments to published standards that are issued but not yet effective

Up to the date of approval of the financial statements, certain new Standards, Interpretations and Amendments to existing standards have been published but are not yet effective for the current reporting period and which the Company has not early adopted.

The Directors do not expect that the adoption of these standards will have a significant impact on the financial statements of the Company in future period.

a) Statement of compliance (continued)

ii) Standards, Interpretations and Amendments to published standards that are issued but not yet effective (continued)

There are no other standards, interpretations or amendments to existing standards that are not yet effective that would be expected to have a significant impact on the Company.

b) Critical accounting judgements and key sources of estimation uncertainty

The preparation of Financial Statements in conformity with IFRS requires the use of certain critical accounting estimates. It also requires the Board of Directors to exercise its judgement in the process of applying the Company's accounting policies. The areas involving a higher degree of judgement or complexity, or areas where assumptions and estimates are significant to the Financial Statements are disclosed as part of the relevant accounting policy disclosures.

In the application of the Company's accounting policies, which are described in note 2 to the Financial Statements, management is required to make judgements, estimates and assumptions about the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. The estimates and associated assumptions are based on historical experience and other factors that are considered to be relevant. Actual results may differ from these estimates. The estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimate is revised if the revision affects only that period or in the period of the revision and future periods if the revision affects both current and future periods.

The Board of Directors is of the opinion that there are no key assumptions or other key sources of estimation or uncertainty at the period end date that have not been disclosed in these Financial Statements. Where such judgements or estimates are made, they are indicated within the accounting policies described in note 2.

c) Basis of preparation

The Financial Statements have been prepared on a historical cost basis, except for the revaluation of certain financial assets at fair value through profit or loss. Historical cost is generally based on the fair value of the consideration given in exchange for the assets.

The Directors have assessed the going concern basis of the Company as a whole and note that it is their intention to continue to operate the Company for the foreseeable future.

Whilst the Cells within the Company could be subject to high levels of redemption requests, the Principal Manager, with the prior agreement of the Custodian, may suspend redemptions within the Cells to ensure the Company can continue as a going concern. For this reason, the Directors have prepared the Financial Statements on a going concern basis.

In order to reflect the results of the Company, the figures representing each Cell have been aggregated in US Dollars to produce the Statement of Financial Position, Statement of Comprehensive Income and Statement of Changes in Net Assets attributable to holders of participating redeemable shares.

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

c) Basis of preparation (continued)

On 14 August 2015, World Shariah Investments Limited (the “Subsidiary”), a wholly owned subsidiary of the cell WSF Asian Pacific Fund, was incorporated in Guernsey pursuant to section 20 of the Companies (Guernsey) Law, 2008. The Subsidiary was to act as a nominee to hold investments listed in the Indian Market on behalf of the Cell. The Subsidiary was dissolved by voluntary strike off on 3 April 2018 following a decision by the board to cease the proposed Indian Market account opening. The Subsidiary has had no transactions other than acting as a nominee to the Cell. Consolidating the Subsidiary would have made no relative difference to the financial statements.

The principal accounting policies have been applied consistently by the Company.

d) Operating segments

The Directors are of the opinion that each cell of the Company is engaged in a single segment of business, being investment business. The WSF Global Equity Fund will invest in Shariah-compliant securities which may be located in any jurisdiction or in any economic sector provided that such securities are listed securities or securities quoted on a Recognised Stock Exchange and the WSF Asian Pacific Fund will invest in equities listed in stock exchanges in the emerging and developed markets in the Asian Pacific region excluding Japan, that are Shariah-compliant.

e) Income Recognition

Dividend income arising on the Company’s investments is recognised in profit or loss when the Company’s right to receive the dividend has been established, normally being the ex-dividend date. Dividend income is recognised on a gross basis including withholding tax, if any. Related withholding tax is recognised separately in the Statement of Comprehensive Income as part of expenses. Any income or distributions received by a Cell from investment assets in relation to securities which relate to income from non-Shariah compliant investment assets are considered impure income.

The impure income is subject to an income purification process determined by the Shariah Adviser from time to time by which the impure income is distributed to organisations considered beneficial to the public at large and which are approved by the Shariah Adviser. The income purification is shown as an expense in the Statement of Comprehensive Income.

f) Expenses

All expenses are recognised in profit or loss on an accruals basis. Expenses that relate to the set-up and organisation of the Company are expensed as incurred. Those expenses that relate to the Company as a whole are allocated to each Cell pro rata to their net asset value. The Company has no employees.

2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (continued)

g) Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss

i) Classification

The Company classifies its investments in equity securities as financial assets at fair value through profit or loss. These financial assets have been designated by the Board of Directors at fair value through profit or loss from initial recognition.

Financial assets designated at fair value through profit or loss are those that are managed and their performance evaluated on a fair value basis in accordance with the Company's investment strategy as documented in its Scheme Particulars, and information about these financial assets are evaluated by the management of the Company on a fair value basis together with other relevant financial information.

ii) Recognition

Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss are recognised when the Company becomes party to the contractual provisions of the instrument. Recognition takes place on the trade date where the purchase or sale of an investment is under a contract whose terms require delivery of the investment within the timeframe established by the market concerned.

iii) Measurement

At initial recognition, financial assets are measured at fair value plus transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of the financial asset in the case of a financial asset not at fair value through profit or loss. The Directors determines the classification of the Company's financial assets at initial recognition. Associated transaction costs on the acquisition or issue of financial assets at fair value through profit or loss are expensed in the Statement of Comprehensive Income in the period incurred.

Financial assets other than those designated and effective as hedging instruments, are classified into the following categories.

- Amortised cost
- Fair value through profit or loss (FVTPL)
- Fair value through the other comprehensive income (FVOCI)

In the years presented, the Company does not have any financial assets categorised as FVOCI.

After initial recognition, financial assets at fair value through profit or loss are measured at fair value without any deduction for transaction costs that may occur on the sale of these financial assets. Gains or losses arising from changes in fair value are included in the Statement of Comprehensive Income for the period in which they arise.

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (continued)

g) Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss (continued)

ii) Measurement (continued)

Listed investments are valued at the mid-market prices ruling as at the close of business at the end of the reporting period, net of any accrued dividend which is included in the Statement of Financial Position as an income related item. The Directors are of the opinion that the mid-market prices are the best estimate of fair value in accordance with the requirements of IFRS 13. Movements in fair value are included in the Statement of Comprehensive Income.

The value of any investment which is not quoted, listed or normally dealt in on a stock exchange or over the counter market are valued by the Directors in accordance with IFRS 13.

iii) De-recognition

Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss are de-recognised when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the financial asset expire or if the Company transfers the financial asset and the transfer qualifies for de-recognition in accordance with IAS 39 Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement.

Realised gains and realised losses on de-recognition are determined using the weighted average cost method and are included in the Statement of Comprehensive Income for the period in which they arise.

iv) IFRS 13

IFRS 13 requires the Company to classify fair value measurements using a fair value hierarchy that reflects the significance of the inputs used in making the measurements. Fair value is defined under IFRS 13 as the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date.

The fair value measurement is based on the presumption that the transaction to sell the asset or transfer the liability takes place either:

- (i) In the principal market for the asset or liability, or
- (ii) In the absence of a principal market, in the most advantageous market for the asset or liability.

The principal or the most advantageous market must be accessible by the Company. The fair value of an asset or a liability is measured using the assumptions that market participants would use when pricing the asset or liability, assuming that market participants act in their economic best interest.

Assets and liabilities measured at fair value are classified into one of the following categories:

- Level 1 — Unadjusted quoted prices in active markets that are accessible at the measurement date for identical, unrestricted assets or liabilities. The type of investments which would generally be included would include equities and derivatives listed on a securities exchange.

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (continued)

- Level 2 — Quoted prices in markets that are not considered to be active or financial instruments for which all significant inputs are observable, either directly or indirectly (including quoted prices for similar investments in active markets, interest rates and yield curves, credit risks, etc). The type of investments which would generally be included in this category would include corporate stock, bank debt and certain over-the-counter derivatives.
- Level 3 — Prices or valuations that require inputs that are both significant to the fair value measurement and unobservable (including the Investment Adviser's own assumptions and assumptions used by the Consultants about what market participants would use in determining the fair value of investments). The type of investments which would generally be included in this category would include private or debt securities issued by private entities. The inputs or methodology used for valuing securities are not necessarily an indication of the risks associated with investing in those securities.

Tables summarising the fair value hierarchy as of 30 April 2019 in valuing the Company's investments carried at value are shown in note 5.

h) Foreign Currency Translation

Functional and presentational currency

The Board of Directors considers the currency of the primary economic environment in which the Company operates to be US Dollars as this is the currency which in their opinion most fairly represents the economic effects of the underlying transactions, events and conditions.

Transactions and balances

Transactions in currencies other than US Dollars are recorded at the rates of exchange prevailing on the dates of the transactions. Foreign exchange gains and losses arising from the settlement of such transactions and from the translation at period end exchange rates of monetary items and non-monetary assets and liabilities that are denominated in foreign currencies are recognised in profit or loss in the period. Foreign exchange gains and losses on financial assets at fair value through profit or loss are recognised together with other changes in the fair value in the line item Net realised gains/(losses) on investments and Net change in unrealised (losses)/gains on investments. Net foreign exchange gains/(losses) on monetary financial assets and liabilities other than those classified as at fair value through profit or loss are included in the line item Net foreign exchange (losses)/gains.

Participating redeemable shares may be redeemed at any time for cash equal to a proportionate share of the Company's net asset value. Participating redeemable shares are issued and redeemed at prices based on the Company's net asset value per share at the time of issue or redemption.

b) Fair value hierarchy of financial instruments

The Company determines whether transfers have occurred between levels in the hierarchy by re-assessing categorisation, based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole, at the end of each reporting period.

The Company held the following financial instruments at fair value as at 30 April 2019. The Company has no financial instruments with fair values that are determined by reference to significant unobservable inputs, i.e. those that would be classified as level 3 in the fair value hierarchy as at 30 April 2019, nor have there been any transfers of assets or liabilities between levels of the fair value hierarchy. There are no non-recurring fair value measurements.

There were no level 2 or 3 instruments held at the current year or prior year.

The Directors consider that the carrying value amounts of financial assets and financial liabilities recorded at amortised cost in the financial statements are approximately equal to their fair values.

The following table analyses the fair value hierarchy of the Company's investments held at fair value through profit or loss as at 30 April 2019 and 2018:

Trident Fund Services (Guernsey) Limited is entitled to receive a fee of £10,000 per annum for the provision of Mr Joseph Truelove. All Directors are also entitled to reimbursement of out of pocket expenses properly incurred in the performance of their duties.

17. FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT

a) Financial risk management objectives and policies

The General Investment Restrictions and the Fund Particulars set out the risk management policies and guidelines for each of the Cells operated by the Company. They include the Cells' investment objectives, which are shown on page 1 of these financial statements, their tolerance of risk and their general risk management philosophy. The main risks are summarised below.

b) Market price risk

Each Cell may be prone to changing market conditions as a result of:

- i. Global, regional or national economic conditions;
- ii. Governmental policies or political progression;
- iii. Development in regulatory framework, law and legal issues;
- iv. General movements in interest rates;
- v. Broad investor sentiment; and
- vi. External shocks (e.g. natural disasters, war etc.)

All of the above may result in uncertainties and fluctuations in the price of the underlying securities of each of the Cell's investment assets. Such movements in the underlying values of the securities may cause the Net Asset Value or proceeds of shares to fall as well as rise, and income produced by a Cell may also fluctuate. The market risk can be managed by ensuring a rigorous review of macroeconomic trends by the Principal Manager and/or Investment Adviser to determine investments in markets that are not highly correlated.

Although movements in interest rates may affect the value of investments, it does not suggest that the Cells invest in interest bearing instruments. The interest rate referred herein is to the general interest rate of the country, which may affect the value of a Cell's Investment Assets.

17. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS (continued)

Price sensitivity

As at 30 April 2019, if market prices had been 20% higher with all other variables held constant, the net assets attributable to holders of the participating shares for the year would have been US$5,225,558 and US$657,906 (30 April 2018: US$5,733,860 & US$974,115) higher for the WSF Global Equity cell and the WSF Asian Pacific cell respectively, arising due to the increase in fair value of financial assets at fair value through profit or loss. A 20% decline in market prices would have resulted in an equal but opposite effect on the financial statements, on the basis that all other variables remain constant.

c) Risk of Shariah non-compliance

As each of the Cells invests only in securities of companies whose principal activities comply with Shariah requirements, it may be subject to a higher level of risk than a portfolio which is not subject to any specific requirements. Furthermore, there is an inherent risk of the reclassification of Shariah status risk, where the currently held Shariah-compliant securities in the relevant Cell's portfolio may be re-designated as non Shariah-compliant securities. If this occurs, the value of the relevant Cell may be adversely affected where the Principal Manager and/or Investment Adviser will take the necessary steps to dispose of such securities in accordance with the rules of divestment of non Shariah-compliant securities as detailed in the Shariah Investments Guidelines section of each supplement to the Offering Memorandum. The Company monitors this risk through the appointment of a Shariah Adviser who reviews the investment portfolio.

d) Credit risk

All of the Company's cash balances are held by State Street Custody Services (Guernsey) Limited ("State Street") and bankruptcy or insolvency of the bank may cause the Company's rights with respect to the cash held by them to be delayed or limited and in the worst case scenario, could be subject to total loss. The Company monitors the credit quality of State Street on a regular basis.

The Company's custodian is also State Street Custody Services (Guernsey) Limited which has a current credit rating of Aa1 per Moody's Investors Service. Bankruptcy or insolvency of the Custodian may cause the Company's rights with respect to investments held by the Custodian to be delayed. Investments held by the Custodian are ring-fenced and should be protected should the Company become bankrupt or insolvent.

e) Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates. It does not in any way suggest that the Company will invest in non Shariah-compliant financial instruments.

The Company's exposure to interest rate risk is limited as the Company has not invested in interest bearing securities at the year-end nor does it have any cash held on interest bearing accounts.

Foreign currency sensitivity

At 30 April 2019, the Company is exposed to all currencies as per the tables above. If the US$ had weakened by 10% against these currencies with all other variables held constant, the net assets attributable to the holders of participating shares would have been US$794,132 & US$294,328 (30 April 2018: US$1,005,964 & US$456,614) higher for the WSF Global Equity cell and the Asian Pacific cell respectively, arising as a result of an increase in the fair value of foreign currency denominated financial liabilities set off by the increase in foreign currency denominated financial assets.

Conversely, if the US$ had strengthened 10% against these currencies, the net assets attributable to holders of participating shares would have had the equal but opposite effect.

g) Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is defined as the risk of not being able to meet its liabilities. This is applicable to both listed and unquoted securities. Generally, if the security encounters a liquidity crunch, the security may need to be sold at a discount to the fair value of the security. This in turn would depress the Net Asset Value growth of the relevant Cell. For the purpose of each Cell, the Principal Manager and/or Investment Adviser will attempt to balance the entire portfolio by investing in a mix of assets with satisfactory trading volumes and those that occasionally could encounter poor liquidity. This is expected to reduce risks for the entire portfolio without limiting the relevant Cell's growth potential.

The maturity of the Cells' cash and investment assets and liabilities (excluding participating redeemable shares) relating to the cash and investing activities were as follows:

	Assets	Liabilities	Assets	Liabilities
	30-Apr-2019	30-Apr-2019	30-Apr-2018	30-Apr-2018

The ability to realise the assets in a timely manner will affect the ability of the Company to repay its participating redeemable shareholders. Should the Principal Manager and Custodian deem it necessary they have the option to suspend dealing in the cells if they believe it is in the interests of the participating redeemable shareholders.

Liquidity risk arises as a result of the Company not having sufficient cash to meet liabilities as they fall due. The Directors have the ability to limit redemptions to 10% of the Net Asset Value of the Cell on any redemption day and redemption requests being paid within ten business days after each dealing day.

h) Capital management

The capital of the Company is managed in accordance with the Company's investment objectives and policies. This includes the Directors having the ability to limit the value of shares redeemed on a redemption day to 10% of the Net Asset Value of the Cell and redemption requests being paid within ten business days after each dealing day.

The capital structure of the Company consists of cash and bank balances and proceeds from the issue of participating redeemable shares.

The Directors and the Principal Manager review the capital structure and, as part of this review, the Principal Manager considers the cost of capital and the risks associated.

The Company is not subject to externally imposed capital requirements.

18. EARNINGS PER SHARE

Basic and diluted earnings per share are calculated based on total comprehensive income for the period divided by the weighted average number of shares in issue for the period.

Earnings per share during the year ended 30 April 2019 and 30 April 2018 are as follows:

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

19. NAV RECONCILIATION

Differences in net assets attributable to holders of participating redeemable shares between the financial statements and the valuation for dealing purposes can arise due to changes in market value of investments held at fair value through profit or loss as a result of price differences between the year-end date and the last valuation date for dealing purposes.

In current year, the valuation date of WSF Global Equity Fund and WSF Asian Pacific Fund was 30 April 2019, which is the same as the year-end date.

In prior year, the Directors of the Company resolved to implement a temporary change to the valuation date of WSF Global Equity Fund and WSF Asian Pacific Fund from 1 May 2018 to 30 April 2018, in order to coincide with year end of the Company.

Therefore, there are no differences in net assets attributable to holders of participating redeemable shares between the financial statements and the valuation for dealing purposes in both years.
